EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Frank H.T. Rhodes Post-doctoral Fellowship. The Cornell Population Center (CPC) invites applicants for the Frank H.T. Rhodes Post-doctoral Fellowships (#22245). The start date for the position will be August 15, 2014 and will be funded for 2 years, subject to a satisfactory first year evaluation. Selection will be based on scholarly potential, ability to work in multi-disciplinary settings, and the support of a faculty mentor and CPC affiliate at Cornell who will work closely with the post-doctoral associate. Preference will be given to fellows with research interests in areas broadly related to the CPC's four main foci: families & children; health behaviors & disparities; poverty & inequality; and immigration & diversity. Submission deadline: January 20, 2014.

Research Scientist/Associate, Population Research Institute, Pennsylvania State University. The Population Research Institute (PRI) and the Social Science Research Institute (SSRI) at the Pennsylvania State University are seeking to hire a Research Scientist/Research Associate (job#: 40990) with expertise in the areas of GIS and spatial analysis. As the research scientist will meet with faculty in many disciplines and encounter diverse types of data and methods, the applicant should have a PhD in a relevant field (sociology, geography, economics, etc.), and possess a broad array of skills in research methods with an emphasis on spatial statistics and GIS applications in the health and social sciences; experience in the area of network data and analysis would also be a plus. Experience and high levels of familiarity with a diverse set of health and social science data sets is preferred. Open until filled.

Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor of Economics, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. The Economics Department of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill invites applications for a tenure track or tenured position at the assistant, associate, or full professor level in the field of applied micro economics. The applicant must have a research record in population-related fields such as labor, health, education, and /or family economics, and will have an opportunity to be a fellow of the Carolina Population Center. Fall and additional interviews will take place at the AEA meetings in January 2014. Open until filled.

Visiting Assistant Professor of Sociology, Reed College. The Department of Sociology invites applications for one-year visiting professor position for the 2014-15 academic year, with the possibility of reappointment for 2015-16. We expect to make an appointment at the visiting assistant professor level, although more senior candidates may be considered. Primary areas of research and teaching should include one or more of the following fields: Law, Science, Medicine, Education, Work, Organizations, the Professions, Criminology/Deviance, Immigration and Race, Stratification, Social Psychology, Small Groups, Family, Gender, Sexuality, Cities. Application deadline: January 10, 2014.

Postdoctoral Researcher, Institut National d'Etudes Démographiques \(INED\). INED is recruiting a postdoctoral researcher to work on a project titled "Coming into the world: early childhood socio-economic conditions and well-being" funded by the Agence Nationale de la Recherche (ANR). The post offers an exciting opportunity for an individual with a PhD in demography, sociology, social epidemiology or another numerate social science discipline. We invite candidates with excellent quantitative skills, and in particular with knowledge of longitudinal data and methods. Knowledge or an interest in early childhood (including socio-economic, demographic and/or family characteristics, or health and well-being) would be appreciated. Contact Lidia Panico to apply. Application deadline: January 12, 2014.

Assistant/Associate Professor of Global Urban Immigration, University of Illinois-Chicago. The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences at the University of Illinois at Chicago is seeking candidates for a tenure-track faculty position (job#: 36953) at the Assistant/Associate professor rank in border studies beginning August 2014. This hire is part of the "Global Urban Immigration" cluster, which is part of the Chancellor's cluster hiring Initiative. Over the next several years the Global Urban Immigration Cluster will make three additional hires. We are seeking scholars working on border issues/studies, broadly conceived, from disciplines and/or areas including Anthropology, Geography, Political Science, Latin American and Latino Studies, Gender and Women Studies, African American Studies, Sociology, Urban Studies, and Humanities, whose work relates to major contemporary debates on immigration. Application deadline: January 12, 2013.

Health Disparities Service Fellowship in the Office of the Center Director, CDC. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's (CDC) National Center for Health Statistics (NCHS), in conjunction with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services' (HHS) Office of Minority Health (OMH), is seeking a Survey Statistician, Social Scientist, or Health Scientist for a Health Disparities Service Fellowship in NCHS' Office of the Center Director. The Fellow, reporting to the Director of Extramural Research, will develop a research program to examine health disparities using data from across the Center. Application deadline: January 15, 2014.

Postdoctoral Fellow in Family Demography and Individual Development, The Pennsylvania State University. The Population Research Institute (PRI) at The Pennsylvania State University anticipates an opening for a postdoctoral fellow in the NICHD-supported Family Demography and Individual Development training program, starting on or about August 15, 2014. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in demography, sociology, family studies, or a related social science discipline by the starting date. A strong background in quantitative analysis of social science data is desirable. The training program is oriented toward a postdoctoral research apprenticeship in two areas: family demography, and life course development processes and outcomes. Application deadline: January 15, 2014.

Postdoctoral Fellow, Population Studies Center, Institute for Social Research, University of Michigan. The Population Studies Center expects to have openings for postdoctoral fellows sponsored by National Institute on

CORNELL POPULATION CENTER

Aging (NIA) and The Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development (NICHD). Positions to start on or about September 1, 2014. Director of Census Data Center and Open Rank Professor, Department of Sociology and Rural Studies, South Dakota State University. The Department of Sociology and Rural Studies at South Dakota State University seeks an experienced demographer to serve as an open rank faculty member and Director of the department's Rural Life and Census Data Center. The Director is expected to oversee the work of Data Center staff and graduate students; manage publication schedules; administer grants and contracts; and perform teaching, research, and graduate student advising duties in areas of expertise. Successful applicants must have a PhD in Sociology, Demography, Population Studies, or a closely-related field; a record of successful publications in peer reviewed journals; and be experienced in quantitative demographic analysis. Applicants must be able to teach graduate demography classes; and, demonstrate successful grant and contract activity; effective grant and contract management; and effective written, verbal, and communication skills. Knowledge of upper Great Plains demography and sociology is strongly desired, however the research programs of the Director and Data Center need not be limited to this area. Submission deadline: January 15, 2014.

Postdoctoral Fellowship, Population Studies and Training Center, Brown University. PSTC-affiliated postdocs focus on developing their research, publication and grant portfolio and may teach a course (depending on the position's funding sources) and have the opportunity to participate in Brown courses. Submission deadline: January 15, 2014.

Developing Asia Health Policy Fellowship, Stanford University. The Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center, Stanford University and the Asia Pacific Observatory on Health Systems and Policy (APO) are pleased to announce their collaborative Developing Asia Health Policy Fellowship. We welcome applications from recent PhDs who are nationals of countries in the Asia-Pacific region; applicants from low- and middle-income countries are preferred. Applicants are encouraged from a variety of disciplines, such as public health, demography, sociology, political science, economics, anthropology, public policy, law, health services research and related fields. Submission deadline: January 15, 2014.

Tenure-Track Position, Migration/Ethnic Relations, University of Western Ontario. The Faculty of Social Science at Western University invites applications for a Tier II Canada Research Chair in the area of Migration and Ethnic Relations. In accordance with the regulations set for Tier II Canada Research Chairs, the candidate will hold a PhD (obtained within the last ten years), and will be an outstanding emerging scholar who has demonstrated innovation with the potential to achieve international recognition within five to ten years. The focus for this position is not discipline-specific or region-specific. Application deadline: January 17, 2014.

Three Demography Research Positions \(category 2, CR2\), INED, France. INED's main mission is to study the national and international demographic situation and to analyse population trends. INED adopts a multidisciplinary approach, and its areas of expertise cover not only the study of purely demographic phenomena such as nuptiality, fertility, mortality and migration, but also demography applied to society, economics, public health, human geography, and history. Deadline for obtaining application: January 17, 2014; Application deadline: January 21, 2014.

NICHD Postdoctoral Fellowship, Population Research Center \(PRC\), The University of Texas at Austin. The Population Research Center (PRC) at The University of Texas at Austin will have one opening for NICHD-funded postdoctoral position starting September 1, 2014. This position is for one year, but is potentially renewable for a second year. The PRC is an interdisciplinary research and training unit of The University of Texas at Austin (UT) that provides infrastructure support services and project development support for a very productive, interdisciplinary group of faculty, postdocs, graduate students, and undergraduate students at UT. Most of the research is concentrated in four overlapping and reinforcing thematic areas: Health disparities, Educational Inequality & Opportunity, Partnership, Parenting, & Human Development, and Work and Stratification. Application deadline: January 27, 2014.

Senior Service Fellowship in Obesity and Nutritional Epidemiology, CDC. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's (CDC) National Center for Health Statistics (NCHS) is seeking a Senior Service Fellow in obesity and nutritional epidemiology. NCHS is the principal health statistics agency in the United States. As a member of the Analysis Branch in the Division of Health and Nutrition Examination Surveys, the Fellow will conduct analyses with NHANES data on obesity and nutrition topics. In collaboration with other researchers within and outside of NCHS, the Fellow is expected to plan and carry out high-quality research on obesity, selecting appropriate statistical and epidemiologic methods and utilizing NHANES data. The Fellow will prepare comprehensive reports of study results for NCHS and scientific publication. Additionally, the Fellow will assume responsibilities as a point of contact for many ongoing obesity activities. Application deadline: January 31, 2014.

NIH Postdoctoral Fellowship, Princeton University. The Office of Population Research at Princeton University invites applications for an NIH postdoctoral fellowship. Candidates must have completed an MD or a PhD in demography, sociology, statistics, or other relevant field prior to the start of the appointment. Applicants for this NIH fellowship must be U.S. citizens or permanent residents. Appointment is for one year, with possibility of renewal based on satisfactory performance and continued funding, and a start date of September 2014. Application deadline: February 15, 2014.

RAND Postdoctoral Training Program in the Study of Aging. The RAND Postdoctoral Training Program in the Study of Aging enables outstanding junior scholars in demographic and aging research to sharpen their analytic skills, learn to communicate research results effectively, and advance their research agenda. Housed within RAND Labor and Population, the program blends formal and informal training and extensive collaboration with distinguished researchers in a variety of disciplines. Fellowships are for one year, renewable for a second. Each fellow receives a competitive annual stipend, travel stipend and health insurance. Application deadline: February 21, 2014.

Postdoctoral Fellowships, Health Disparities Research Scholars Training Program, University of Wisconsin-Madison. The Center for Women's Health and Health Disparities Research is currently seeking candidates for two openings in its Health Disparities Research Scholars (HDRS) T32 postdoctoral training program for 2014. This training program, funded by NICHD, is designed to provide postdoctoral training in interdisciplinary research that addresses health equity and/or disparities in health status and health outcomes. Candidates must be able to devote full-time effort to this program for a minimum of two years and a maximum of three years. Application deadline: March 1, 2014.

Visiting Lectureship, Department of Political and Social Science at the Pompeu Fabra University \(Spain\). The Department of Political and Social Science at the Pompeu Fabra University invites applications for a two-year visiting lectureship in the area of sociology starting in September of 2014. There is the possibility of conversion into a tenure-track contract. Applicants should hold a PhD in Sociology, Demography, Economics or Statistics, with a strong background in quantitative research methods. Preferred areas of specialization are: migration research, demographic analysis, social stratification, social problems and exclusion. Application deadline: March 10, 2014.

\(2\) Health Services Researcher, Public Policy Institute \(PPI\), AARP. PPI is seeking two energetic, self-starting health services researchers to join our health team. The primary role of the position will be to design and conduct research using large scale claims, clinical, and behavioral data to which we have access under a collaborative agreement with our research partners. The position is open to candidates with a strong research
