2015 PAA INFORMATION

CPC Graduate Student 2015 PAA Travel Grants. The Cornell Population Center (CPC) is pleased to once again offer travel grants for graduate student affiliates to attend the Population Association of America \(PAA\) 2015 Annual Meeting at the Hilton San Diego Bay Front, April 30-May 2, 2015. The CPC will reimburse up to $400 for student affiliates presenting a paper or poster and up to $200 for student affiliates attending (and not presenting). Funds are limited and travel grants are awarded on a first-come, first-served basis with funding priority for presenting students. Please e-mail Erin Oates and indicate whether you are presenting or attending.

2015 PAA Annual Meeting, April 30- May 2, 2015, San Diego, CA

CPC at 2015 PAA. Congratulations CPC'ers! Faculty and student affiliates of the Cornell Population Center have set a new record of participation for the annual meetings of the Population Association of America, which will be held this May in San Diego.

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Cornell University

CORNELL POPULATION CENTER

Research Analyst, Harvard Center for Population and Development Studies. The Harvard Center for Population and Development Studies (HCPDS) seeks a fulltime Research Analyst for its longitudinal program project (P01) called "Health and Aging in Africa: Longitudinal Studies in Three INDEPTH Communities (HAALSI)." The analyst will be responsible for management of all the primary data collection effort, including the daily monitoring and review of household and individual survey and biomarker data, as well as clinical assessments and lab results. MA/MS or PhD in health economics, econometrics, biostatistics, epidemiology or related field required. Open until filled.

Demographers on Sabbatical \(DOS\) Program, University of Texas at Austin, Population Research Center \(PRC\).

The PRC has developed a new program, Demographers on Sabbatical (DOS), which will provide support to prominent population scientists wishing to spend their sabbatical semester/year at the center. The DOS program starts in Fall 2015, with support available for two positions. Scholars will have the option of spending one or two semesters on campus. Applicants should have salary and fringe support from their home institution. The PRC/College of Liberal Arts will provide a $10,000 honorarium, travel for one round trip flight, office space in the PRC, and staff/computing support from the PRC. Open until filled.

PhD students, Postdocs, Research Scientists, Laboratory of Fertility and Well-being, Max Planck Institute for Demographic Research.

The newly established Laboratory of Fertility and Well-being is recruiting highly qualified scientists at all levels from tenured Research Scientist to PhD Student. Successful candidates will have strong quantitative skills with experience in applied data analysis. Candidates from the fields of demography, economics, statistics, sociology, epidemiology/public health or related disciplines will be considered. Open until filled.

Postdoctoral Research Fellow, Department of Health Sciences, University of Missouri. The School of Health Professions Department of Health Sciences (DHS) at the University of Missouri is seeking applications for a Two-Year Postdoctoral Research Fellow to work on several nationally funded projects. This position will provide the opportunity for collaboration with Dr. Cheak-Zamora within the DHS and Dr. Colleen Heflin within the Truman School of Public Affairs to carry out and publish original, policy-relevant research on health care utilization, health care transition, and economic and public policy reform. The fellow will have access to training in quantitative and qualitative methods and to collaborative relationships within both schools as well as with other faculty in the School of Medicine, Public Health, and the School of Journalism. Application deadline: January 12, 2015.

Postdoctoral Fellowship, Center for Tobacco Control Research & Education, UC San Francisco. Tobacco Control Policy Fellows are recruited from a variety of fields including the basic sciences, social sciences, public health practitioners, clinical fields, political science, history, economics, law, and marketing. The Center for Tobacco Control Research and Education directs a postdoctoral fellowship program that offers supervised research experience in tobacco control with members of the Center faculty. Each trainee meets regularly with a faculty mentor regarding research progress and career or professional issues. Stipends are $2000 above the NIH scale, from approximately $44,000 - $53,096, depending on years of postdoctoral experience. Deadline: January 14, 2015.

Assistant/Associate Professor of Environmental Governance and Urban Systems, The Pennsylvania State University. The Department of Geography at The Pennsylvania State University invites applications for a tenure-track faculty position at the assistant or associate professor rank. We seek an established scholar whose research is focused on the dynamics of urban-environmental governance. We are particularly interested in candidates whose work addresses resource use, management, and policy. Areas of investigation may include urbanization, social justice, globalization, and climate change. We encourage applications from scholars who use both qualitative and quantitative methods. Deadline: January 15, 2015.

\(2-3\) Open Rank Professor of Behavioral Sciences and Health Education \(BSHE\), Rollins School of Public Health of Emory University. The Department of BSHE, Rollins School of Public Health of Emory University, seeks scholars for tenured or tenure track faculty appointments at the academic rank of Assistant, Associate or Full Professor (#47764BR). We seek forward-looking colleagues with conceptual and methodological expertise that crosses disease categories and includes: multi-level modeling, macro-social determinants of health, intervention development, dissemination and implementation, bio-psychosocial influences, ubiquitous technologies, life course development, social network methods, and health disparities. Candidates from a broad range of disciplinary backgrounds (e.g., public health, communications, psychology, sociology, anthropology, social/behavioral epidemiology, genomics, health services, and behavioral economics) are encouraged to apply. Deadline: January 15, 2015.

Developing Asia Health Policy Fellowship, Stanford University. The Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center, Stanford University (Shorenstein APARC) and the Asia Pacific Observatory on Health Systems and Policy (APO) are pleased to announce their collaborative Developing Asia Health Policy Fellowship. The Postdoctoral Fellow will participate in the Stanford Asia Health Policy Program while undertaking original research on contemporary health or healthcare policy of high relevance to countries in the Asia-Pacific region. The Fellow will benefit from the APO network of researchers and research institutions throughout the Asia Pacific region, including contacts with governments, to facilitate access to data and needed references for their research. Deadline: January 15, 2015.

Associate Professor/Senior Lecturer of Sociology, Lund University. The Department of Sociology at Lund University seeks at least one Senior Lecturer (Associate Professor). The successful candidate will teach sociology courses on the Bachelors, Masters and PhD levels. The position includes 20 per cent research that, with support of external funding, can be extended up to 75 percent. The teaching languages are Swedish and English. The department expects a non-Swedish speaking successful candidate to learn and master Swedish within a reasonable time period. Deadline: January 16, 2015.

Lectureship in Quantitative Social Science, Exeter University. The primary research area of the post-holder will be within the social sciences (e.g. Political Science, International Relations, Sociology, Criminology or other related social science field) and whose approach and publications demonstrate advanced proficiency in quantitative methods. In addition to demonstrated potential for publishing in leading journals and securing research grants, it is essential that the candidate have expertise in one or more of the following: programming (e.g. Python), GIS, network analysis as well as expertise in advanced statistical methods and software (Stata and/or R). The successful applicant will hold a PhD in a relevant area and have an independent, internationally-recognised research programme in an active field of related research. Deadline: January 18, 2015.

Assistant Professor of Applied Mathematics, School of Human Evolution and Social Change, Arizona State University. The School of Human Evolution and Social Change seeks to hire a tenure-track faculty member at the rank of Assistant Professor (Job# 11047). Anticipated start date is August 16, 2015. The appointment will be jointly held between both units with tenure in the School of Human Evolution and Social Change. Minimum qualifications include PhD or terminal degree in applied mathematics, computational or quantitative social/life science, computational statistics, or related field by the time of appointment; ability to apply advanced mathematical concepts and methods in human biological and social evolution and dynamics; and capacity to contribute to instruction in applied mathematics, global health, anthropology, human evolutionary biology, and/or environmental social science. Deadline: January 26, 2015.

T32 NICHD Postdoctoral, University of Texas Population Research Center. The Population Research Center (PRC) at The University of Texas at Austin will have one opening for NICHD-funded postdoctoral position starting September 1, 2015. The PRC is an interdisciplinary research and training unit of The University of Texas at Austin (UT) that provides infrastructure support services and project development support for a very productive, interdisciplinary group of faculty, postdocs, graduate students, and undergraduate students at UT. Most of the research is concentrated in four overlapping and reinforcing thematic areas: Health disparities, Educational Inequality & Opportunity, Partnership, Parenting, & Human Development, and Work and Stratification. Deadline: January 27, 2015.

Postdoctoral Research Associate, Population Studies and Training Center \(PSTC\), Brown University. The PSTC is currently accepting applications for a postdoctoral research associate position in Population Studies. As part of a research unit with a strong culture of collaboration, postdoctoral fellows are expected to spend about half of their time working independently and about half of their time working together with one or more mentors from among our faculty Research Associates. Deadline: January 31, 2015.

Development Economist, American Institutes for Research \(AIR\). The American Institutes for Research (AIR) has opportunities available in Washington, D.C. for a Development Economist to work in the International Development, Evaluation, and Research program (IDER). IDER conducts impact evaluations on a wide range of topics including cash transfer programs, early childhood nutrition programs, education interventions, health product distribution programs, and agricultural interventions. Our work contributes to policy and financial decisions at the national and international level in countries around the world. A Ph.D. in economics, public policy, or related social science field, with expertise in econometrics or applied statistics. Deadline: January 31, 2015.

NIH Postdoctoral Fellowship, Office of Population Research at Princeton University. The Office of Population Research at Princeton University invites applications for an NIH postdoctoral fellowship (#1400802). Candidates must have completed an MD or a PhD in demography, sociology, statistics, or other relevant field prior to the start of the appointment. Applicants for this NIH fellowship must be U.S. citizens or permanent residents. Appointment is for one year, with possibility of renewal based on satisfactory performance and continued funding. The start date for this appointment will be September 2015. Screening of applicants will start on February 1, 2015.

Staff Scientist, Epidemiology Branch, NIH/NICHD. The Division of Intramural Population Health Research (DIPHR) of the Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development (NICHD), National Institutes of Health (NIH), invites applications for the position of Staff Scientist in the Epidemiology Branch. The successful applicant will be expected to assist in the development of relevant etiological hypotheses, study protocols, analytical plans, and institutional review board packages necessary for successful study completion as well as preparation of scientific papers and other related work as required. Deadline: February 1, 2015.

RAND Postdoctoral Training Program in the Study of Aging. The RAND Postdoctoral Training Program in the Study of Aging enables outstanding junior scholars in demographic and aging research to sharpen their analytic skills, learn to communicate research results effectively, and advance their research agenda. Housed within RAND Labor and Population, the program blends formal and informal training and extensive collaboration with distinguished researchers in a variety of disciplines. Fellowships are for one year, renewable for a second. Each fellow receives a competitive annual stipend, travel stipend and health insurance. Deadline: February 20, 2015.

Open-Rank Professor of Data Science, Departments of Computer Science, Sociology and Economics, Queens College. Queens College seeks an established or emerging researcher (Job # 10668) in the area of data science with significant research experience in applying and developing data science to address problems arising in the fields of population, demography, economics, linguistics, sociology, or other areas. An established research agenda with substantial outside funding support or a potential for such funding is highly desirable. Competitive emerging researchers will demonstrate a clear research agenda and high potential for career growth. The successful applicant will be placed in the appropriate department by mutual agreement. This position is part of the CUNY-wide cyber infrastructure initiative. Deadline: March 6, 2015.

Open Rank Professor of Economics, Purdue University. The Department of Economics invites applications for at least one tenure-track or tenured position. Candidates at all ranks (Assistant, Associate and Full Professor) will be considered; appointments will begin August, 2015. The Department is seeking applications from exceptional candidates in all fields; candidates in the areas of Industrial Organization, Health, Education, Labor and Public Economics are particularly encouraged to apply. Candidates are expected to conduct policy-relevant research, to supervise Ph.D. dissertation research and to teach at the graduate and undergraduate levels. The positions require a Ph.D. in economics or closely related field. Deadline: March 31, 2015.

CPC STUDENT OPPORTUNITIES

Demography Minor. The CPC offers a campus-wide minor in Demography that is open to PhD students in all social science graduate fields. Admission to the Demography minor requires that at least one member of the student's special committee is a CPC affiliate. Students interested in signing up for the Demography minor should contact Lindy Williams or Geysa Smiljanic.

CPC Graduate Student Demography/Population Reading Group. For each meeting, a participant will serve as the leader, providing 2 or 3 articles and/or chapters to read related to their topic of interest. This group will facilitate student exposure to a breadth of literature across all of population studies and also develop some cross-disciplinary links. If you are interested in participating, please just send your name, department, and general area of interest/specialty to Christopher Gronberg.

Dissertation Fellowship Program. The Center for Retirement Research at Boston College sponsors the annual Dissertation Fellowship Program in the field of retirement income research. The program is funded by the U.S. Social Security Administration and provides funding opportunities for doctoral candidates to pursue cutting-edge research on retirement issues. Up to three fellowships of $28,000 are awarded to doctoral candidates enrolled in an accredited program at a U.S. university. Deadline: January 31, 2015.

2015 UH EITM Summer Institute, June 15-26, 2015. The two-week institute teaches the NSF-inspired three-step Empirical Implications of Theoretical Models (EITM) framework. The purpose of this framework is to establish a transparent relation between theory and test and lead to accumulation of knowledge. If you have a paper or dissertation that you believe will benefit from the EITM framework, this program may be right for you. Deadline: February 6, 2015.

Call for Applications: Population Reference Bureau–Policy Communication Training. Applicants may be in any field of study, but their research focus must be related to demography, reproductive health, or population
