CPC at 2015 PAA. Congratulations CPC'ers! Faculty and student affiliates of the Cornell Population Center have set a new record of participation for the annual meetings of the Population Association of America, which will be held this May in San Diego.

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Associated Health Postdoctoral HSR&D Fellowship Program. The Postdoctoral Research Fellowship at the VA HSR&D Center for the Study of Healthcare Innovation, Implementation & Policy welcomes applications from individuals who have recently completed a doctoral degree in such health-related disciplines as public health (epidemiology, health services, biostatistics), psychology, organizational sociology, health economics, health administration, nursing, pharmacy, or other related fields. Fellows typically begin any time between July 1st and September 30th of each year. Please note that Fellows must be United States citizens and must have completed their doctoral degree before beginning the fellowship. Open until filled.

Assistant or Associate Professor of Health Policy or Health Services Research, Rutgers University. The Institute for Health, Health Care Policy and Aging Research; Rutgers, The State University of New Jersey invites applications for a full-time, tenure-track assistant or associate professor in health policy or health services research. The successful candidate will be appointed as a core member of the Institute for Health with a joint appointment in an academic department appropriate for the candidate's discipline or profession. Of special interest are candidates whose work and training would make them suitable for appointment within a unit of

Cornell University

CORNELL POPULATION CENTER

Rutgers Biomedical and Health Sciences, including its schools of medicine, nursing, pharmacy, or public health.
Open until filled.

Human Services Research Analyst, Mathematica Policy Research. Most research analysts conduct original and secondary policy research in multiple areas. Mathematica conducts evaluations on a broad range of topics, such as the Early Head Start program; charter school programs; teacher compensation and evaluation; responsible fatherhood programs; initiatives for youth at risk of homelessness; the Workforce Investment Act; and the impact and distributional effects of changes in SNAP, school lunches, WIC, TANF, and other social policies. Analysts may perform secondary research, including systematic reviews of existing research in education, family support, labor, early childhood, international development, and other areas. Some analysts provide technical assistance on evaluation design issues to other organizations conducting research. Open until filled.

Research Analyst, Harvard Center for Population and Development Studies. The Harvard Center for Population and Development Studies (HCPDS) seeks a fulltime Research Analyst for its longitudinal program project (P01) called "Health and Aging in Africa: Longitudinal Studies in Three INDEPTH Communities (HAALSI)." The analyst will be responsible for management of all the primary data collection effort, including the daily monitoring and review of household and individual survey and biomarker data, as well as clinical assessments and lab results. MA/MS or PhD in health economics, econometrics, biostatistics, epidemiology or related field required. Open until filled.

Demographers on Sabbatical \(DOS\) Program, University of Texas at Austin, Population Research Center \(PRC\). The PRC has developed a new program, Demographers on Sabbatical (DOS), which will provide support to prominent population scientists wishing to spend their sabbatical semester/year at the center. The DOS program starts in Fall 2015, with support available for two positions. Scholars will have the option of spending one or two semesters on campus. Applicants should have salary and fringe support from their home institution. The PRC/College of Liberal Arts will provide a $10,000 honorarium, travel for one round trip flight, office space in the PRC, and staff/computing support from the PRC. Open until filled.

PhD students, Postdocs, Research Scientists, Laboratory of Fertility and Well-being, Max Planck Institute for Demographic Research. The newly established Laboratory of Fertility and Well-being is recruiting highly qualified scientists at all levels from tenured Research Scientist to PhD Student. Successful candidates will have strong quantitative skills with experience in applied data analysis. Candidates from the fields of demography, economics, statistics, sociology, epidemiology/public health or related disciplines will be considered. Open until filled.

Assistant Professor of Applied Mathematics, School of Human Evolution and Social Change, Arizona State University. The School of Human Evolution and Social Change seeks to hire a tenure-track faculty member at the rank of Assistant Professor (Job# 11047). Anticipated start date is August 16, 2015. The appointment will be jointly held between both units with tenure in the School of Human Evolution and Social Change. Minimum qualifications include PhD or terminal degree in applied mathematics, computational or quantitative social/life science, computational statistics, or related field by the time of appointment; ability to apply advanced mathematical concepts and methods in human biological and social evolution and dynamics; and capacity to contribute to instruction in applied mathematics, global health, anthropology, human evolutionary biology, and/or environmental social science. Deadline: January 26, 2015.

T32 NICHD Postdoctoral, University of Texas Population Research Center. The Population Research Center (PRC) at The University of Texas at Austin will have one opening for NICHD-funded postdoctoral position starting

Cornell University

CORNELL POPULATION CENTER

September 1, 2015. The PRC is an interdisciplinary research and training unit of The University of Texas at Austin (UT) that provides infrastructure support services and project development support for a very productive, interdisciplinary group of faculty, postdocs, graduate students, and undergraduate students at UT. Most of the research is concentrated in four overlapping and reinforcing thematic areas: Health disparities, Educational Inequality & Opportunity, Partnership, Parenting, & Human Development, and Work and Stratification. Deadline: January 27, 2015.

Columbia Population Research Center Visiting Scholars Program. The Columbia Population Research Center (CPRC) welcomes visitors whose research fits into one or more of its primary research areas and who make a compelling case that their presence at the Center will advance their own scholarship as well as the scholarship of CPRC members. Visitors will be expected to participate in the life of the Center by mentoring, guest lecturing, facilitating seminars, etc. CPRC is currently accepting applications for 2015–2016 academic year. Deadline: January 30, 2015.

Supervisory Public Health Analyst, DHHS, Maternal and Child Health Bureau. This position (Job # HHS-HRSA-MP-15-1303392) is located in the Maternal and Child Health Bureau (MCHB) under the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA). The ideal candidate will possess experience with and demonstrated leadership for public health programs that address the broad range of needs for children with special healthcare needs (CSHCN), as well as experience leading people with a vision for the future for programs and services for CSHCN. The ideal candidate will also have experience compiling, collecting, and analyzing programmatic data. In addition the ideal candidate will be skilled in coordinating program activities with a variety of internal and external stakeholders across professional, policy and family perspectives. Deadline: January 30, 2015.

Postdoctoral Research Associate, Population Studies and Training Center \(PSTC\), Brown University. The PSTC is currently accepting applications for a postdoctoral research associate position in Population Studies. As part of a research unit with a strong culture of collaboration, postdoctoral fellows are expected to spend about half of their time working independently and about half of their time working together with one or more mentors from among our faculty Research Associates. Deadline: January 31, 2015.

Development Economist, American Institutes for Research \(AIR\). The American Institutes for Research (AIR) has opportunities available in Washington, D.C. for a Development Economist to work in the International Development, Evaluation, and Research program (IDER). IDER conducts impact evaluations on a wide range of topics including cash transfer programs, early childhood nutrition programs, education interventions, health product distribution programs, and agricultural interventions. Our work contributes to policy and financial decisions at the national and international level in countries around the world. A Ph.D. in economics, public policy, or related social science field, with expertise in econometrics or applied statistics. Deadline: January 31, 2015.

NIH Postdoctoral Fellowship, Office of Population Research at Princeton University. The Office of Population Research at Princeton University invites applications for an NIH postdoctoral fellowship (#1400802). Candidates must have completed an MD or a PhD in demography, sociology, statistics, or other relevant field prior to the start of the appointment. Applicants for this NIH fellowship must be U.S. citizens or permanent residents. Appointment is for one year, with possibility of renewal based on satisfactory performance and continued funding. The start date for this appointment will be September 2015. Screening of applicants will start on February 1, 2015.

Cornell University

CORNELL POPULATION CENTER

Staff Scientist, Epidemiology Branch, NIH/NICHD. The Division of Intramural Population Health Research (DIPHR) of the Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development (NICHD), National Institutes of Health (NIH), invites applications for the position of Staff Scientist in the Epidemiology Branch. The successful applicant will be expected to assist in the development of relevant etiological hypotheses, study protocols, analytical plans, and institutional review board packages necessary for successful study completion as well as preparation of scientific papers and other related work as required. Deadline: February 1, 2015.

Service Fellowship in Biostatistics and Epidemiology, Office of Analysis and Epidemiology, CDC. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's National Center for Health Statistics (NCHS) in Hyattsville, Maryland, is seeking a Service Fellow in epidemiology or biostatistics to work in its Office of Analysis and Epidemiology (OAE). The Service Fellow will work closely as part of a team of HPSB analysts responsible for collecting, analyzing, and presenting data for national health-promotion and disease-prevention initiatives, primarily Healthy People 2020 and the National Prevention Strategy. Major duties will include: synthesizing, analyzing, and verifying data; examining trends and disparities in national health objectives over time and across sociodemographic groups; preparing data charts summarizing the status of objectives for departmental reports and meetings; presenting original research papers or posters at professional meetings; and representing NCHS at Healthy People 2020 Workgroup meetings and conferences. Deadline: February 13, 2015.

RAND Postdoctoral Training Program in the Study of Aging. The RAND Postdoctoral Training Program in the Study of Aging enables outstanding junior scholars in demographic and aging research to sharpen their analytic skills, learn to communicate research results effectively, and advance their research agenda. Housed within RAND Labor and Population, the program blends formal and informal training and extensive collaboration with distinguished researchers in a variety of disciplines. Fellowships are for one year, renewable for a second. Each fellow receives a competitive annual stipend, travel stipend and health insurance. Deadline: February 20, 2015.

Open-Rank Professor of Data Science, Departments of Computer Science, Sociology and Economics, Queens College. Queens College seeks an established or emerging researcher (Job # 10668) in the area of data science with significant research experience in applying and developing data science to address problems arising in the fields of population, demography, economics, linguistics, sociology, or other areas. An established research agenda with substantial outside funding support or a potential for such funding is highly desirable. Competitive emerging researchers will demonstrate a clear research agenda and high potential for career growth. The successful applicant will be placed in the appropriate department by mutual agreement. This position is part of the CUNY-wide cyber infrastructure initiative. Deadline: March 6, 2015.

Open Rank Professor of Economics, Purdue University. The Department of Economics invites applications for at least one tenure-track or tenured position. Candidates at all ranks (Assistant, Associate and Full Professor) will be considered; appointments will begin August, 2015. The Department is seeking applications from exceptional candidates in all fields; candidates in the areas of Industrial Organization, Health, Education, Labor and Public Economics are particularly encouraged to apply. Candidates are expected to conduct policy-relevant research, to supervise Ph.D. dissertation research and to teach at the graduate and undergraduate levels. The positions require a Ph.D. in economics or closely related field. Deadline: March 31, 2015.

CPC STUDENT OPPORTUNITIES

Demography Minor. The CPC offers a campus-wide minor in Demography that is open to PhD students in all social science graduate fields. Admission to the Demography minor requires that at least one member of the student's special committee is a CPC affiliate. Students interested in signing up for the Demography minor should contact Lindy Williams or Geysa Smiljanic.

Cornell University

CPC Graduate Student Demography/Population Reading Group. For each meeting, a participant will serve as the leader, providing 2 or 3 articles and/or chapters to read related to their topic of interest. This group will facilitate student exposure to a breadth of literature across all of population studies and also develop some cross-disciplinary links. If you are interested in participating, please just send your name, department, and general area of interest/specialty to Christopher Gronberg.

Dissertation Fellowship Program. The Center for Retirement Research at Boston College sponsors the annual Dissertation Fellowship Program in the field of retirement income research. The program is funded by the U.S. Social Security Administration and provides funding opportunities for doctoral candidates to pursue cutting-edge research on retirement issues. Up to three fellowships of $28,000 are awarded to doctoral candidates enrolled in an accredited program at a U.S. university. Deadline: January 31, 2015.

2015 UH EITM Summer Institute, June 15-26, 2015. The two-week institute teaches the NSF-inspired three-step Empirical Implications of Theoretical Models (EITM) framework. The purpose of this framework is to establish a transparent relation between theory and test and lead to accumulation of knowledge. If you have a paper or dissertation that you believe will benefit from the EITM framework, this program may be right for you. Deadline: February 6, 2015.
