EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Housing Demographer \(Senior Research Analyst\), Harvard Joint Center for Housing Studies. The Harvard Joint Center for Housing Studies advances understanding of housing issues and informs policy. The Housing Demographer (Job #31836BR) plans, designs, conducts, and manages research projects related to demographic trends as they affect housing markets, ensures that these projects are appropriately staffed and meet specified timelines and budgets, and manages relationships with funders and outside researchers engaged on these projects. PhD required and must have experience in working with various Census Bureau surveys (Current Population Survey, American Housing Survey, American Community Survey, etc.) and a facility with statistical software. Open until filled.

Assistant or Associate Professor of Rural Sociology, Penn State. The Department of Agricultural Economics, Sociology, and Education, College of Agricultural Sciences, seeks applicants with expertise in spatial data methods to fill a tenure track appointment at the advanced Assistant or Associate Professor level. The position is co-funded with Penn State's Social Science Research Institute (SSRI) and Population Research Institute (PRI). This is a 9-month, full-time appointment with half-time administrative responsibilities as Director of Penn State's

CORNELL POPULATION CENTER

Geographic Information Analysis (GIA) Core, and half-time research, teaching, and service responsibilities in Rural Sociology. Ph.D. in rural sociology, sociology, demography, or related field. Open until filled.

President and Chief Executive Officer, Population Reference Bureau. The Population Reference Bureau (PRB), internationally respected for its objective, accurate and timely data and analysis, seeks a new President and Chief Executive Officer. PRB's mission is to inform people around the world about population, health, and the environment, and to empower them to use that information to advance the well-being of current and future generations. Open until filled.

Associate Program Officer, William T. Grant Foundation. The William T. Grant Foundation is seeking a researcher to join our staff as an Associate Program Officer. The Foundation is a national funder of high-quality research on children and youth in the United States. We seek to increase understanding of ways to reduce inequality in youth outcomes and of the use of research in policy and practice. This includes research in various social science disciplines and across child welfare, education, juvenile justice, mental health, and youth programs. Ph.D. or equivalent degree in behavioral, social, education, or health sciences. Open until filled.

Senior Research Associate, Urban Institute. The Income and Benefits Policy Center is seeking a Senior Research Associate with expertise in microsimulation and data visualization who will design, direct, conduct, and disseminate quantitative and qualitative research on a wide variety of public policy issues with an emphasis on challenges facing low-income families and households. This position requires a PhD in Economics or related fields in the Social Sciences plus at least 6 years of policy research experience or an equivalent combination of education and research experience. Open until filled.

Research Fellow/Research Associate, Historical Census Projects, Minnesota Population Center. The Minnesota Population Center (MPC) seeks to fill a new opening for a research fellow or research associate to work on the historical census projects, which deal primarily with U.S. census data no longer subject to confidentiality restrictions. This unique and vast collection includes hundreds of millions of records representing every American from 1790 to 1940. These raw data require analysis, cleaning and logical editing. Current MPC projects focus on developing exhaustive databases for 1850 and 1940, and a usable series for the entire span from 1790 to 1940. Various future projects are envisioned, including linking individuals across multiple censuses over time. All of the historical census data are ultimately released through the IPUMS-USA web dissemination system (usa.ipums.org). Open until filled.

Research Fellow/Research Associate, Terra Populus, Minnesota Population Center. The Minnesota Population Center (MPC) at the University of Minnesota seeks a research fellow or research associate to contribute to the Terra Populus (TerraPop) research team in the areas of data gathering and data preparation as well as outreach and reporting. TerraPop is a National Science Foundation DataNet project. The position will work with the project manager, research assistants, IT staff, and other research staff to collect, prepare, and develop dissemination tools for population and environmental data. Open until filled.

Research Associate, Urban Institute. Urban Institute's The Justice Policy Center is seeking researchers who can work collaboratively on a variety of projects aimed to enhance and measure the impact of public safety and criminal justice operations, initiatives, and practices. These projects include the conceptualization of research designs and methodologies as well as the statistical and econometric analysis of criminal justice policies and programs. We are seeking individuals who possess a strong public policy background, an interest in data analysis, and a desire to enhance their research skills. Ph.D. in Criminology, Public Policy, Economics, Sociology, or other similar social science field. Open until filled.

Senior Research Associate, Demographic and Health Surveys \(DHS\) Program. ICF International, which implements the Demographic and Health Surveys (DHS) program, is seeking to hire a Senior Research Associate to work on analytical studies on demographic and health issues in developing countries. The researcher will conduct data analysis, systematic literature reviews, and prepare publishable multi-country reports and papers. The researcher will also help to conduct analysis workshops and provide training and analytical assistance to collaborators from developing countries. Ph.D. in a relevant social science or public health field (demography, behavioral sciences, epidemiology/biostatistics, international health). Open until filled.

Research Scientist/Associate, Population Research Institute, Pennsylvania State University. The Population Research Institute (PRI) and the Social Science Research Institute (SSRI) at the Pennsylvania State University are seeking to hire a Research Scientist/Research Associate (job#: 40990) with expertise in the areas of GIS and spatial analysis. As the research scientist will meet with faculty in many disciplines and encounter diverse types of data and methods, the applicant should have a PhD in a relevant field (sociology, geography, economics, etc.), and possess a broad array of skills in research methods with an emphasis on spatial statistics and GIS applications in the health and social sciences; experience in the area of network data and analysis would also be a plus. Experience and high levels of familiarity with a diverse set of health and social science data sets is preferred. Open until filled.

Assistant/Associate Professor of Political Science and Sociology, European University at Saint-Petersburg \(Russia\). The UBS Professor of Sociology will teach courses, conduct research, and give counsel on studies of social stratification. The ability to develop interdisciplinary approaches to the issues of wealth distribution and different forms of power combining insights from economic sociology, political economy, organizations theory, and political science would be a crucial advantage. A particular emphasis should be put on research methods, which should include quantitative methods. The professor's principal role would be to produce world-class research on emerging patterns of stratification, dominance, and poverty, on social inequality, the sociological profile of newly wealthy groups, and to contribute to public discussions on the subject. Open until filled.

Sociologist/Social Scientist, Institute for Futures Studies \(IFFS\), Stockholm \(Sweden\). The Institute for Futures Studies (IFFS), Stockholm, is appointing a researcher to the project "Children's living conditions in a changing society: Socioeconomic and ethnic inequality." The project is concerned with social and ethnic inequalities among young people in present-day society, including intergenerational processes and segregation mechanisms, and is funded by a long-term grant by Forte (Swedish Research Council for Health, Working Life, and Welfare). It covers five major themes: educational inequality, child poverty, school and wellbeing, ethnic integration, and family structure. Applications deadline: March 16, 2014.

PAA Executive Director. The Population Association of America (PAA) is seeking a replacement for its Executive Director who is retiring after 18 years of service. The Executive Director plays a major role in the management of the association, working with PAA officers and board members to provide strategic leadership for the association and serving as the administrator for the day-to-day operations of the association, including financial management and planning the annual meeting. The Executive Director reports to the PAA Board of Directors. Application deadline: March 17, 2014.

\(2\) Health Services Researcher, Public Policy Institute \(PPI\), AARP. PPI is seeking two energetic, self-starting health services researchers to join our health team. The primary role of the position will be to design and conduct research using large scale claims, clinical, and behavioral data to which we have access under a collaborative agreement with our research partners. The position is open to candidates with a strong research background in health care, with preference given to individuals with experience and interest in Medicare, Medicaid, prescription drugs, and health policy research. These are full-time, permanent positions located in Washington, DC. The ideal individuals will have a PhD, or equivalent, in economics, public health, epidemiology, social sciences, public policy, health services research, or other relevant discipline, or an M.D. or M.P.H. with substantial research experience. Submission deadline: April 1, 2014.

CORNELL POPULATION CENTER

Academic Coordinator I - Center on the Economics and Demography of Aging, and the Berkeley Population Center.

The AC will participate, in collaboration with the Center Directors, in defining the Centers' research and outreach programs. The AC's input is especially valuable because s/he combines academic expertise and knowledge of the research community with knowledge of the administrative possibilities and costs of implementation. The AC will support new programs for the Centers, finding new investigators to recruit as members, and suggesting new research possibilities for existing members. PhD in social sciences preferred. Application deadline: April 7, 2014.

Hulme University Fund and John Fell OUP Research Funding Postdoctoral Fellowship in Sociology, University of Oxford.

The Department of Sociology in association with Brasenose College is offering a Postdoctoral Fellowship from 1 October 2014 on a full-time fixed-term contract for 3 years. This post is designed to give a supported experience in a broad range of academic duties, encompassing research, teaching and organising academic initiatives. The fellowship aims to support a scholar of outstanding promise who has completed his or her doctorate and is developing a new academic project. Application deadline: April 11, 2014.

\(4\) Postdoctoral Associates, Centre for Economic Demography, Lund University \(Sweden\).

The Centre for Economic Demography is presently seeking to fill up to four post-doctoral positions in Economic Demography. The positions are full-time with a two-year limit of tenure.
