of geography, demography, sociology, economics, and related social sciences. We are looking for candidates at all levels of education. Training in demographic analysis, survey research, geographic information systems, and/or quantitative data analysis of large datasets is preferred. These openings offer the opportunity to work on one or more of the following topics: population distribution; population estimates and projections; housing; income; disability; health insurance coverage; education; and migration. Representatives will be recruiting during the Population Association of America (PAA) annual meeting in San Diego, CA. We will conduct 30 minute informational recruiting sessions during the conference (April 30 and May 1) from 9:00 am to 5:00 pm. Please email David Zaslow to sign up prior to the conference or visit the Census Bureau's exhibition booth during the conference.

Lecturer, Department of Sociology, University of Iowa. The Department of Sociology at the University of Iowa seeks applicants for appointment at the rank of Lecturer (full-time, non-tenure track) to teach introduction to sociology, social problems, and other specialty courses depending on the expertise of the faculty member hired. We would be particularly interested in candidates who could teach course on family, gender, organizations or economic sociology. The teaching load is three courses per semester. A PhD in Sociology is required. The position will begin in August 19, 2015. Open until filled.

Assistant or Associate Professor of Social Epidemiology, UNC, Chapel Hill. The Department of Epidemiology, Gillings School of Global Public Health, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, is recruiting for a full-time tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor. We are seeking outstanding individuals engaged in social epidemiology research, including, but not limited to, multi-level and life course approaches, with research in substantive areas such as, but not limited to, cancer, cardiovascular, genetics, infectious diseases, or reproductive outcomes. Open until filled.

Research Data Manager, Johns Hopkins University. Performance Monitoring and Accountability 2020 (PMA2020) is a five-year project funded by the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation that is designed to facilitate annual progress reporting in support of the goals and principles of FP2020. The project will support low-cost, rapid-turnaround household and facility surveys to routinely update national indicators on family planning and water and sanitation in 10 countries in Asia and Africa. PMA2020 is seeking a full-time Research Data Manager to support data management and analysis activities across all project countries and in Baltimore, with a particular focus on Francophone countries. The Research Data Manager will work with the lead Research Associate and the Project Director to assist in the oversight of an international data management team and will be the primary data management support for PMA2020 Francophone partners, including conducting international trainings on data management and analysis with project partners and affiliates. Open until filled.

Postdoctoral Fellowship, Keck School of Medicine, University of Southern California. The Keck School of Medicine of the University of Southern California seeks candidates for one- to three-year research fellowships. Fellows will have the opportunity to work with an interdisciplinary group of faculty who conduct research on the determinants, epidemiology, and intervention/prevention of behavioral influences on cancer risk: (a) tobacco, alcohol, and drug use; (b) obesity, diet, and physical activity; (c) sexually-transmitted infections related to cancer (e.g., HPV infection); or (d) cancer survivorship. We seek candidates with backgrounds and interests that compliment existing strengths in: (1) health disparities and social/environmental influences on health behavior; (2) psychological influences on health behavior, (3) methodology (e.g., longitudinal data analysis, ecological momentary assessment, mobile health, social network modeling), (4) developmental processes and youth health behavior; and (5) psychoneuroimmunology. Open until filled.

Associate/Full Professor of Regional/Urban Development Policy, University of California, Riverside. The UCR School of Public Policy (SPP) and the College of Humanities, Arts and Social Sciences (CHASS) invite applications for a tenured faculty appointment in regional/urban development policy. The appointment will be at the Associate or Full Professor rank and will be shared jointly between the SPP and a relevant CHASS department (e.g., Anthropology, Economics, Political Science or Sociology). We are looking for candidates with a research record and policy interest in urbanization, housing, transportation, land-use planning, poverty, migration, population growth, health disparities, or economic development in a comparative setting. Application deadline: April 13, 2015.

Postdoctoral Fellowship, Center on Poverty & Social Policy, Columbia University. The Center on Poverty and Social Policy, at the Columbia School of Social Work, is seeking a postdoctoral research scholar with a PhD in economics, public policy, social work, sociology or a related discipline for a project on national and state trends in poverty. The postdoc will work with faculty and researchers to conduct new analyses of national and state trends in poverty using an improved measure of poverty based on the supplemental poverty measure (SPM) recently developed by the United States Census Bureau and the Bureau of Labor Statistics. The project will consider key sub-groups as well as the overall population, and will also gather and take into account data on state-level policies and cost-of-living. The postdoctoral fellowship is for one year, with the option to renew for a second year contingent on performance and funding. Deadline: April 30, 2015.

Director of Population Research Institute, Penn State University. The Office of the Vice President for Research and the Social Science Research Institute at The Pennsylvania State University, University Park campus, invites applications for the Director of the Population Research Institute (PRI) (Job #55608). PRI's major goal is to advance the scientific understanding of human population dynamics. The PRI director will hold a tenured appointment at the full level in the most relevant academic department, specifically Sociology, Human Development and Family Studies, Anthropology, Economics, Health Policy & Administration, and/or Agricultural Economics, Sociology & Education. PRI's major goal is to advance the scientific understanding of human population dynamics. Deadline: May 1, 2015.

Fellowship, Mannheim Centre for European Social Research \(MZES\), University Mannheim. The MZES is an interdisciplinary research institute of the University of Mannheim dedicated to comparative European social research and the analysis of European integration processes. The Centre seeks to recruit an outstanding social scientist as a Research Fellow to work in Research Department A "European Societies and their Integration." Successful candidates are expected to publish in international academic journals. They should develop and direct projects in one of the department's three research areas and attract research grants. Application deadline: May 8, 2015.

\(2\) Visiting Scholar Programs, Institute for Research on Poverty. Program 1: The Institute for Research on Poverty (IRP) invites applications from U.S.-based social science scholars from underrepresented racial and ethnic groups to visit IRP, interact with its faculty in residence, and become acquainted with the staff and resources of the Institute. The invitation extends (but is not restricted) to those who are in the early years of their academic careers. Program 2: The Institute for Research on Poverty (IRP) invites applications from U.S.-based food assistance scholars to visit the IRP RIDGE Center for National Food and Nutrition Assistance Research for one week during the 2015 to 2016 academic year, interact with its faculty in residence, and become acquainted with the staff and resources of the Institute. Deadline: May 15, 2015.

Open Rank, Professor of Economics, Texas A&M University. The Department of Economics is seeking to fill one position at the rank of Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, or Full Professor, depending upon funding, in the field of Applied Microeconomics. Categories/specialties: health; education; welfare; labor; demographic econ; urban; rural; and regional econ. All positions require a Ph.D. in economics or related field. Candidates for appointment at the Associate Professor or Full Professor levels must have a demonstrated record of scholarly achievement appropriate for the rank. In addition to a distinguished record of high quality published research, candidates should demonstrate an interest in advising doctoral students. Candidates for appointment at the advanced Assistant position must have at least two years of experience after receiving their Ph.D. and demonstrate promise to publish high-quality research in leading journals. Deadline: June 1, 2015.

CPC STUDENT OPPORTUNITIES

Demography Minor. The CPC offers a campus-wide minor in Demography that is open to PhD students in all social science graduate fields. Admission to the Demography minor requires that at least one member of the student's special committee is a CPC affiliate. Students interested in signing up for the Demography minor should contact Lindy Williams or Geysa Smiljanic.

CPC Graduate Student Demography/Population Reading Group. For each meeting, a participant will serve as the leader, providing 2 or 3 articles and/or chapters to read related to their topic of interest. This group will facilitate student exposure to a breadth of literature across all of population studies and also develop some cross-disciplinary links. If you are interested in participating, please just send your name, department, and general area of interest/specialty to Christopher Gronberg.

Head Start and Child Care Graduate Student Research Grants. The Office of Planning, Research and Evaluation (OPRE) in the Administration for Children and Families, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, has recently published two discretionary research funding announcements titled "Early Care and Education Research Scholars: Head Start Graduate Student Research Grants" and "Early Care and Education Research Scholars: Child Care Research Scholars." Both funding announcements aim to support work that will inform policy decisions and solutions, particularly for underserved/understudied populations, utilizing the most rigorous research methodology, and promoting mentor-student relationships that support students' independent lines of research. Letters of intent due April 10, 2015 and applications due June 8, 2015.

Call for Applications: EDSD. The European Doctoral School of Demography (EDSD) invites applications for school year 2015-2016. The EDSD is an eleven-month program that is offered every year, with the goal to provide students in the first year of their doctoral studies with an appropriate high-level education in demography. Students will acquire a solid knowledge base on causes and consequences of demographic change, population data, statistical and mathematical demography, as well as modeling, simulation and forecasting. The School's courses are structured in such a way that the students work on precise formulation of a thesis topic and early steps of their dissertations. The language of the School is English. Deadline: April 15, 2015.

Census Pathways Summer Internship Program. The Census Bureau is seeking bright, innovative, results-oriented individuals to join our Pathways- Internship Program. The Pathways Internship Program targets students accepted for enrollment or currently enrolled in a degree-seeking program (diploma, certificate, etc.) in an accredited/qualifying educational institution, on a full or half-time basis. Internships can be seasonal (spring, summer, fall) or year round. Deadline: August 17, 2015.
