Application deadline: September 15, 2014.

CORNELL POPULATION CENTER

Call for Pre-proposals: 2015-2018 ISS Theme Projects. Pre-proposals due: February 2, 2015. Starting in 2015, the ISS will be reconfiguring the theme project model that was used from 2004-2014. ISS will fund two 5-person projects rather than one 10-person project. Pre-proposals are not due until February 2, 2015, but faculty are encouraged to discuss their project ideas with Kim Weeden, the Director of ISS, during Spring and Summer of 2014 in advance of her sabbatical leave during Fall 2014. Please contact Anneliese Truame to make an appointment.

NICHD/NIH, Population Dynamics Branch \(PDB\). The PDB (formerly the Demographic and Behavioral Sciences Branch) supports research and research training in demography, reproductive health, and population health. Ongoing FOAs.

NIA/NIH, Division of Behavioral and Social Research \(BSR\). The Division of Behavioral and Social Research (BSR) supports social, behavioral, and economic research and research training on the processes of aging at both the individual and societal level. Ongoing FOAs.

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Assistant Commissioner of Housing Policy Analysis and Research, NYC Department of Housing Preservation. HPD's Office of Policy and External Affairs seeks a qualified candidate (Job # 141099) to lead the Division of Housing Policy Analysis and Statistical Research (DHPASR). DHPASR plans and conducts major housing-related research requiring advanced concepts and methods and/or large-scale data collection, processing, and analyses, primarily for the legally required New York City Housing and Vacancy Survey (HVS). The candidate should have a PhD in economics, and/or a social and political science discipline with 10 years of experience conducting major research projects requiring advanced concepts and methods or large-scale data collection, processing and analyses. Open until filled.

Administrator, New York Research Data Center. The New York Research Data Center (NYCRDC) seeks an Administrator with a PhD and an empirical research background. The NYCRDC is located at Baruch College in New York City. The NYCRDC provides researchers with the opportunity to engage in approved projects that use the restricted-access microdata collected by the U.S. Census Bureau, the National Center for Health Statistics, and the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality. The RDC Administrator will assist researchers from many disciplines including economics, sociology, demography, geography, political science, and medicine. Knowledge of social science research methodology is required. Open until filled.

Assistant/Associate Professor of Non-communicable Diseases and Global Health, Harvard School of Public Health. The Department of Global Health and Population at the Harvard School of Public Health seeks candidates for the position of tenure-track Assistant or Associate Professor of Non-communicable Diseases (NCDs) and Global Health. The department seeks candidates to expand its research on NCDs such as cancer, cardiovascular disease, stroke, mental illness or diabetes, in a global health context. The successful candidate will be expected to develop a program of field research in low and middle income countries. The candidate will also play a central role in the department's teaching programs. Overseas travel for fieldwork is envisaged. Candidates will hold a doctoral degree in epidemiology, demography, economics, public policy, global health, or related disciplines, with a demonstrated expertise and interest in conducting quantitative studies and mixed methods. Prior field research experience in Africa or Asia is highly desirable. Open until filled.

Data Science Researcher, Queens College \(CUNY\). Queens College seeks an established or emerging researcher in the area of data science with significant research experience in applying and developing data science to address problems arising in the fields of population, demography, economics, linguistics, sociology, or other areas. The successful candidate will teach undergraduate, master's level, and Ph.D. level courses and engage in research. This will enhance and build the program in data science in cooperation with Computer Science and the program in Applied Social Research currently based in the Sociology department. Application deadline: June 29, 2014.

Demographer, University of Florida. The Statistical Research Coordinator works in the Bureau of Economic and Business Research (BEBR), College of Liberal Arts & Sciences (CLAS), at the University of Florida (UF) as a Demographer in the Population Program. The incumbent assists in producing state and local population estimates and projections. He/she maintains Statistical Analysis System (SAS) and Microsoft Excel software programming used in producing said estimates and projections. The incumbent collects, manipulates, and analyzes demographic and socioeconomic data for Florida and the United States. He/she assists staff members working on other demographic research projects, contracts, and/or grants. The incumbent provides information on population-related topics to federal, state, and local government officials, businesses, the media, and members of the public. Application deadline: June 30, 2014.

Postdoctoral Research Associate, Department of Social & Policy Sciences, University of Bath. The Department of Social & Policy Sciences at the University of Bath wishes to appoint a Postdoctoral Research Office to carry out collaborative research on comparative analyses of "Gender, Family and Intergenerational Inequalities," under the supervision of Professors Lynn Prince Cooke and Paul Gregg. The successful applicant will be experienced in using STATA and in the management and analysis of large, complex, secondary panel or cohort data sets such as Understanding Society, British Cohort Study, German Socio-Economic Panel, US Panel Study of Income Dynamics or National Longitudinal Survey of Youth, etc. The appointed person must have a PhD or DPhil in a relevant social science discipline (e.g. economics, social policy, demography, social statistics or sociology). July 1, 2014.

Economist, CFACT, Division of Social and Economic Research, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. The Center for Financing, Access and Cost Trends anticipates one or more position openings for Ph.D. economists interested in conducting research on the U.S. health care system. The successful applicant(s) will join a team of interdisciplinary researchers generating policy-relevant publications in economics, health policy and health services research journals. Individuals will also contribute to the analytical design of the Medical Expenditure Panel Survey (MEPS), a series of large surveys of households, employers and providers. Application deadline: July 15, 2014.

Group Leader, Max Planck Institute for Demographic Research. The Max Planck Institute for Demographic Research seeks a path-breaking recent Ph.D. eager to develop a highly innovative Max Planck Research Group at a frontier of mathematical, biological, historical, social, economic or qualitative demography. The successful candidate will be given ample resources to establish and direct an independent research program. For this purpose, he or she will be guaranteed funding to recruit and lead a team of researchers, for operating expenses, scientific collaborators, and technical and secretarial support. The successful candidate will start a five-year contract (with the possibility of a prolongation after positive evaluation) between October and December 2014. The payment corresponds to the W2 level on the German university scale, equivalent to an Assistant or Associate Professor. Applicants should have completed a doctoral degree in the past decade. Application deadline: July 25, 2014.

Associate Director for Science, Office of Analysis and Epidemiology, National Center for Health Statistics. The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention's (CDC) National Center for Health Statistics (NCHS), Office of Analysis and Epidemiology (OAE) is seeking an Associate Director for Science to serve as senior advisor on crosscutting research and dissemination activities. This fellowship is open to all citizens of the United States or legal permanent residents with a work authorization. Applicants must have successfully completed a doctoral degree in health services research, statistics, survey methods, epidemiology, pharmacy, economics, or a related social science or health field. Strong analytical, writing, and interpersonal skills are required. Direct experience in design and/or analysis of complex surveys, especially NCHS surveys, is highly desirable. Experience using SAS, STATA, SUDAAN, or other statistical software for complex survey data is expected. Application deadline: July 31, 2014.

Open Rank Professor of Medical Sociology, University of Kentucky. The University of Kentucky's Department of Sociology invites applications for a tenure track position at the assistant, associate, or full professor level to begin August 15, 2015. The department is seeking a scholar who can contribute to instruction and research in medical sociology or the sociology of health and illness as well as quantitative methods. The successful candidate will contribute to implementing a newly established program in Health, Society, & Population. Candidates should have a Ph.D. in hand at the time of the appointment. Application deadline: August 1, 2014.

Post-Doctoral Researcher, Department of Sociology, Tilburg University \(Netherlands\). The post-doctoral research forms part of the research project HOWCOME: Changing Housing Regimes and Trends in Social and Economic Inequality, which is financed by the European Research Council (ERC). The research project aims to study the interplay between two major social trends of the post-war period: the upward trend in economic inequality and long-term changes in housing regimes. Application deadline: September 1, 2014.

Assistant Professor of Sociology, Williams College. The Department of Anthropology & Sociology invites applications for the position as a regular (tenure-track) assistant professor in sociology beginning July 1, 2015. The department has a unique interdisciplinary focus that emphasizes innovative empirically grounded qualitative work, including ethnography, historical comparative sociology, visual methods and other qualitative traditions. The department is particularly interested in candidates who do work in the subfields of migration, new media, science and technology, medical sociology, religion, work, or social movements, and/or whose research has a regional focus on Africa or South Asia. Application deadline: September 1, 2014.

Advanced Assistant Professor /Associate Professor, Maxwell School of Citizenship & Public Affairs, Syracuse University. The Department of Sociology in the Maxwell School of Citizenship & Public Affairs invites applications for an Advanced Assistant Professor or tenured Associate Professor in the Sociology Department and faculty associate in the Syracuse University Aging Studies Institute. Candidates should have an active program of research in the sociology of aging and the life course. Application deadline: September 15, 2014.

Assistant Professor of Sociology, University of British Columbia. The Department of Sociology in the Faculty of Arts at the University of British Columbia (Vancouver) invites applications for a tenure-stream faculty position at the rank of Assistant Professor beginning July 1, 2015. The substantive areas of specialization and methodological approaches are open. Application deadline: September 15, 2014

\(2\) Assistant Professor of Sociology, University of Colorado Denver. The Department of Sociology invites applications for two tenure-track Assistant Professors (Job #F01443) to begin spring or fall 2015. The department is especially interested in applicants with a strong record of scholarship and teaching in health, crime, and/or inequality. We anticipate filling at least one of these positions with a quantitative researcher. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in Sociology or a closely related discipline at the time of appointment. Application deadline: October 1, 2014.

CPC STUDENT OPPORTUNITIES

Demography Minor. The CPC offers a campus-wide minor in Demography that is open to PhD students in all social science graduate fields. Admission to the Demography minor requires that at least one member of the student's special committee is a CPC affiliate. Students interested in signing up for the Demography minor should contact Lindy Williams or Geysa Smiljanic.

CPC Graduate Student Reading Group. The Demography/Population reading group will meet in Fall 2014. For each meeting, a participant will serve as the leader, providing 2 or 3 articles and/or chapters to read related to their topic of interest. This group will facilitate student exposure to a breadth of literature across all of population studies and also develop some cross-disciplinary links. If you are interested in participating, please just send your name, department, and general area of interest/specialty to Christopher Gronberg.

Doctoral and Postdoctoral Fellowships, Max Planck Institute for Demographic Research, Rostock. The MaxNetAging Research School (MNARS) is seeking applications for Doctoral Fellowships (3 years) and Postdoctoral Fellowships (2 years), starting in February 2015. MNARS is an international graduate program launched by the Max Planck International Research Network on Aging (MaxNetAging). Application deadline: July 25, 2014.

Award for Best Dissertation in Public Policy and Management. APPAM seeks to recognize emergent scholars in the field by presenting an award for the best Ph.D. dissertation in public policy and management. Application deadline: July 25, 2014

Summer School on Longitudinal and Life Course Research, August 25-29, 2014, Amsterdam. The Summer School is intended for post-doctoral fellows and postgraduate research students who are interested in exploring the potential of longitudinal and life course research or who want to further develop their existing skills.
