Assistant Professor of Sociology, Boston University. The Department of Sociology at Boston University invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position, beginning July 1, 2016, subject to budgetary approval. We seek a colleague who studies the social dynamics of cities, with preference for those who use quantitative methodologies. Within urban sociology, specific foci on law and politics, crime, social inequalities, or the transnational dynamics of cities will complement existing department strengths. We seek a colleague who can speak to the growing interdisciplinary interest in urban studies across the University as well as within the Department of Sociology, which has expertise in utilizing urban ethnography to study space, identity, culture and community. Deadline: October 1, 2015.

Doctoral Researcher, The Mannheim Center for European Social and Research \(MZES\). The Chair in Economic and Organizational Sociology and The Mannheim Center for European Social and Research (MZES) invite applications for a position as a Doctoral Researcher in the Areas of Economic Sociology and the Sociology of Labor Markets. The position is part of an interdisciplinary research project on the evaluation of labor market policies, the dynamics of occupational careers and the labor market integration of immigrants. Candidates should hold an M.A. or equivalent degree in one of the social sciences (sociology, economics or neighboring disciplines). The full-time position is available for 3 years, and may be extended up to another 3 years contingent on the project's renewal. Deadline: October 1, 2015.

Arnold and Bette Hoffman Professor of Sociology, Penn State University. The Department of Sociology and Criminology, The Pennsylvania State University, University Park campus, invites senior-level applications to fill the Arnold and Bette Hoffman Professor of Sociology, to begin August 2016. We especially welcome candidates whose research focuses on family sociology, though we will consider applicants with strong records of scholarship in all areas of sociology. The position is to be filled at the rank of Professor and applicants should have scholarly credentials commensurate with such a rank at major research universities. Candidates should have a strong publication record and a commitment to securing external funding and teaching and mentoring students. Deadline: October 1, 2015.

Tenure Track Assistant Professor Sociology, George Mason University. The Department of Sociology and Anthropology at George Mason University seeks to hire a quantitative sociologist for a full-time (9-month) tenure-track position at the Assistant Professor level (Job #F5617z) beginning August 20, 2016. We are especially interested in candidates with expertise in one of the following substantive areas: global public health, aging, and/or demography, although other areas that support existing program strengths are also welcome. Deadline: October 1, 2015.

Tenure-track Assistant Professor of Sociology, University of Wisconsin-La Crosse. The Department of Sociology invites applicants for a tenure-track, Assistant Professor of Sociology position to begin August 2016. We seek applications from individuals who will hold a Ph.D. in Sociology by time of appointment. Applicants from a closely related field will be considered, provided they can demonstrate the ability to teach core sociological courses. The successful candidate will be required to teach a general education course on race and a course on social theory for our majors and minors, and will be expected to teach courses in their area of specialization. Area of specialization is open, however preference may be given to candidates who can contribute to our program through a focus on applied sociology, sociological practice, community engagement and/or social inequalities. Deadline: October 1, 2015.

Open Rank, Tenure-track Professor of Sociology, Rice University. Pending administrative approval, the Department of Sociology at Rice University invites applications for an open rank tenure-track or tenured position to begin July 2016. We welcome applicants who can build on our areas of research study or expand upon and broaden our existing strengths. PhD required, and applicants should have demonstrated excellence in scholarship, teaching, and collegial service. Deadline: October 1, 2015

Assistant Professor in Migration and Work in New Economies, Michigan State University. The Department of Sociology at Michigan State University seeks candidates for a 9-month tenure-system, position (job #1318) at the Assistant Professor level beginning August 16, 2016 in the area of the Sociology of Migration: Migration and Work in New Economies. The ideal applicant should have a solid understanding of the intersection between migration, work, social conflict, family stratification, culture, race, ethnicity, immigrant reception and/or social policy. A Ph.D. in Sociology or related field is required by the date of appointment. Deadline: October 1, 2015.

Assistant/Associate Professor of Demography, The Ohio State University. The Department of Sociology in the College of Arts and Sciences at The Ohio State University invites applications for an anticipated tenure track position in the field of demography, at the assistant professor to associate professor levels, commencing autumn semester 2016. We seek candidates trained in the models, methods, and materials of demography. Application deadline: October 2, 2015.

Open Rank Professor of Sociology, Cornell University. The Department of Sociology at Cornell University invites applications for a tenure-track or tenured position at the advanced assistant, associate, or full professor level. The start date of the position is July 1, 2016. Applicants must have a PhD and demonstrated excellence in scholarship, teaching, and collegial service. Areas of research specialization are open, but we have a preference for candidates with strong quantitative skills. Review of applications begin October 5, 2015.

3 Postdoctoral Researchers, University of Neuchâtel, University of Geneva, and University of Oxford. The Swiss Network for International Studies SNIS funded project Individual-Level Attitudes towards Immigrants over Time and across Contexts aims to enhance the understanding of individuals' attitudes towards foreigners and immigrants. The project brings together researchers from economics, political science, social psychology, and sociology, and is managed by the University of Neuchâtel. Working language is English. Experience of panel data analysis would be an asset, as would be knowledge of one of the Swiss national languages or perhaps Dutch. Application deadline: October 10, 2015.

Assistant Professor of Environmental Sociology, University of Pennsylvania. The Department of Sociology at the University of Pennsylvania invites applications for a tenure-track Assistant Professor position in environmental sociology. We encourage applications from candidates with expertise in the social factors that contribute to environmental problems and efforts to ameliorate these challenges as well as the social impact of those problems. Specific areas of inquiry include but are not limited to the relationship between industrialization/de-industrialization and environmental degradation, neighborhood ecological well-being and health inequalities, development policies and environment issues, the unequal distribution of environmental hazards, environmental awareness and engagement, and social mobilization related to environmental concerns. Application deadline: October 15, 2015.

Assistant Professor of Social Inequality, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. The Department of Sociology at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign welcomes applications and nominations for a full-time tenure-track Assistant Professor in the field of social inequality, broadly construed. We are especially interested in scholars who approach these topics using quantitative or mixed methods, and whose research trajectory shows promise for seeking external funding. Candidates must possess strong theoretical, analytical, and empirical skills; a commitment to excellence in research and teaching is essential. Deadline: October 15, 2015.

Cornell University

CORNELL POPULATION CENTER

Assistant Professor of Transnational Sociology, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. The Department of Sociology at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign welcomes applications and nominations for a full-time tenure-track Assistant Professor in the field of transnational sociology, broadly construed with specialization in globalization and gender, transnational gender inequality, transnational feminist or women's movements, qualitative or mixed methods. Candidates must possess strong theoretical, analytical, and empirical skills; a commitment to excellence in research and teaching is essential. Deadline: October 15, 2015.

Assistant/Associate Professor of Poverty & Income Inequality, UC Berkeley School of Social Welfare. The School of Social Welfare at the University of California, Berkeley invites applications for a faculty position at the level of Associate or Assistant Professor, with an expected start date of July 1, 2016. (Search # JPF00779) We are looking to hire an Associate or Assistant Professor with a focus in the area of Poverty and Income Inequality. The minimum qualification required to be considered an applicant for the position is the completion of all PhD or equivalent degree requirements, except the dissertation, in Social Work/Welfare or a related field at the time of application. Evidence of scholarly work that includes a focus on poverty and/or income inequality, with an emphasis on how poverty and/or income inequality intersects with other social issues relevant to social welfare. Application deadline: October 19, 2015.

NICHD-funded Postdoctoral Fellow, PRC, The University of Texas at Austin. The Population Research Center (PRC) at The University of Texas at Austin will have one opening for NICHD-funded postdoctoral position starting September 1, 2016. This position is for one year, but is potentially renewable for a second year. The PRC is an interdisciplinary research and training unit of The University of Texas at Austin (UT) that provides infrastructure support services and project development support for a very productive, interdisciplinary group of faculty, postdocs, graduate students, and undergraduate students at UT. Most of the research is concentrated in four overlapping and reinforcing thematic areas: Health disparities, Educational Inequality & Opportunity, Partnership, Parenting, & Human Development, and Work and Stratification. Application deadline: October 30, 2015.

Lecturer in Demography, Australian Demographic and Social Research Institute. The Australian Demographic and Social Research Institute is seeking a Lecturer in the field of Demography. The successful candidate will have an outstanding record or demonstrated potential for excellence in research and publication in demography and will be expected to teach demography courses at both the undergraduate and Masters levels. In addition, the appointee will be expected to supervise Honours, Masters and PhD students and to work collegially with other members of the Institute and Research School of Social Sciences. This is a teaching and research position, and significant research outcomes are expected. The level of appointment will depend on qualifications and experience. Application deadline: October 30, 2015.

Assistant Professor of Social Work, Boston College. be expected to work within one or more of these themes, and to be mentored by at least one IBES Faculty Fellow. Requirements for the positions include a Ph.D. in an environmentally-related discipline, the intellectual flexibility to reach across fields, ability to take initiative and work independently, and demonstrated interest in interdisciplinary environmental research. Application deadline: November 1, 2015.

Assistant Professor Department of Public Health Sciences, UC Davis. The University of California, Davis, School of Medicine, Department of Public Health Sciences invites applications for a faculty position at the Assistant Professor level with expertise in public health and poverty policy research and teaching. This is a full-time tenure track appointment. Successful applicants must have a Ph.D. or Dr.P.H. in public health, epidemiology, economics, sociology, anthropology or a related field; or an M.D. with an accompanying public health graduate degree. The candidate must have experience developing and conducting population-based research and a focus on studying the social, behavioral and economic determinants of health. Deadline: November 1, 2015.

\(2\) Open-Ranked, Tenure-Track Professor, UCLA Fielding School of Public Health \(FSPH\). The UCLA Fielding School of Public Health (FSPH) seeks applicants for two open-ranked tenure-track or tenured faculty positions whose research and teaching focuses on assessing the impact of social policies and programs designed to improve population health at the national and global level. Successful candidates will hold a primary appointment in one of FSPH's five departments, which are Biostatistics, Community Health Sciences, Environmental Health Sciences, Epidemiology, and Health Policy and Management. Successful candidates may also hold a joint appointment across two departments. Candidates must hold a doctoral degree (PhD, ScD, DrPH or equivalent). We encourage applications from candidates in all disciplines of public health as well as a wide range of related fields including the social and behavioral sciences, statistics, public policy, and economics. Candidates must demonstrate strong skills in statistical analysis, research methods, and recent advances in quantitative methods. Deadline: November 8, 2015.

2016 NCHS/AcademyHealth Health Policy Fellowship. The NCHS/AcademyHealth Health Policy Fellowship program brings experts in health services research-related disciplines to the National Center for Health Statistics (NCHS) to conduct studies to address important issues in health policy. The selected fellow gains full access to NCHS data resources as well as several opportunities for professional development, collaboration, mentoring partnerships, and dissemination. During the 13 month tenure, the selected fellow will work closely with an NCHS staff member who can provide technical expertise related to the fellow's research, assist in accessing NCHS data systems and other resources, and help identify other collaborative opportunities within the Center. Application deadline: November 9, 2015.

Open Rank Professor of Family Science, University of Maryland, School of Public Health. The Department of Family Science, School of Public Health, University of Maryland, College Park seeks a full-time tenure track (Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor) (job #106047) to help the Department further enhance its national leadership at the forefront of research and education on health and families. Candidates should hold a doctoral degree (Ph.D., Sc.D.) in maternal and child health, family and reproductive health, or another relevant public health field; family science; demography; human development or related social science discipline. Application deadline: December 1, 2015.

The group of Johannes Haushofer in the Department of Psychology and the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs at Princeton University is seeking applications for one or more positions at the level of postdoctoral or more senior research associate (Job #1500260). We are interested in understanding the relationship between poverty, psychology, and economic choice, and conduct lab and field experiments in both developing and developed countries, using approaches from psychology and economics. Initial appointment is for one year with possibility for renewal pending satisfactory performance and funding availability. PhD in economics, psychology, neuroscience, or related field. Deadline: December 30, 2015.

CPC STUDENT OPPORTUNITIES

Demography Minor. The CPC offers a campus-wide minor in Demography that is open to PhD students in all social science graduate fields. Admission to the Demography minor requires that at least one member of the student's special committee is a CPC affiliate. Students interested in signing up for the Demography minor should contact Lindy Williams or Geysa Smiljanic.

PAM/DSOC 6720 - Demography Proseminar. Offered Fall 2015. One of the core courses required of graduate students enrolled in the PhD minor field of demography. The course generally is taken by second-year students after they have completed one graduate-level course in demographic methods and one substantive demography course. The course's objective is to introduce graduate students to demography's substantive and methodological breadth from various disciplinary perspectives. The course is team taught by affiliated faculty of the Cornell Population Center.

Graduate Student Seed Grants: Center for the Study of Inequality \(CSI\). CSI invites proposals for grants that will support research on inequality by Cornell University graduate students. Deadline September 30, 2015.
