EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

CPC Postdoctoral Associate \(Frank H.T. Rhodes Postdoctoral Fellow\). The Cornell Population Center (CPC) invites applicants for the Frank H.T. Rhodes Postdoctoral Fellowships. The start date for the position will be August 15, 2016 and will be funded for 2 years, subject to a satisfactory first year evaluation. Selection will be based on scholarly potential, ability to work in multi-disciplinary settings, and the support of a faculty mentor and CPC affiliate at Cornell who will work closely with the post-doctoral associate. Preference will be given to fellows with research interests in areas broadly related to the CPC’s four main foci: families & children; health behaviors & disparities; poverty & inequality; and immigration & diversity. Applications must include: (a) letter of application, (b) curriculum vita, (c) a statement proposing both an individual research project and how the candidate will engage with a CPC faculty affiliate’s on-going research, (d) examples of written work, (e) a letter from a CPC faculty affiliate agreeing to mentor the candidate, and (f) three letters of recommendation. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in demography, economics, sociology, or another related social science discipline by August 15, 2016. For questions, please contact Erin Oates. Screening of applications begins December 15, 2015, and will continue until the position is filled.

Research Scientist–Demographer, New York University’s Institute for the Interdisciplinary Study of Decision Making \(IISDM\). New York University’s Institute for the Interdisciplinary Study of Decision Making (IISDM) is launching a major new human health and behavior study, The Kavli HUMAN Project, and is seeking a full-time Research Scientist – Demographer with strong survey sampling, statistical analysis, and data management experience to join our team and contribute to the development and implementation of the Project’s study frame construction, sampling design and weighting procedures. The Research Scientist advises on the implications of various approaches and strategies for drawing the sample, and methods to keep the study population balanced across time. Ideal candidates for this position will have direct experience with economic, epidemiological, or sociological population studies, and facility with statistical approaches for health and behavior related projects, including data management and data analysis. Open until filled.

Postdoctoral Fellowships; National Academy of Education \(NAEd\). The National Academy of Education (NAEd) awards up to 25 postdoctoral scholars for 1-2 years of research relevant to the improvement of education. Also sponsored by The Spencer Foundation, fellows will be funded for 1 academic year of research or 2 contiguous years, working half-time. The program also develops the careers of its recipients through professional development activities involving NAEd members. This is a non-residential fellowship. Fellows will work on knowledgeable research related to education that used an appropriate research design and method to collect and analyze the data. Research must be relevant to education. Applicants must have received their PhD, EdD, or equivalent research degree within the last 5 years. Deadline: November 5, 2015

\(2\) Open-Ranked, Tenure-Track Professor, UCLA Fielding School of Public Health \(FSPH\). The UCLA Fielding School of Public Health (FSPH) seeks applicants for two open-ranked tenure-track or tenured faculty positions whose research and teaching focuses on assessing the impact of social policies and programs designed to improve population health at the national and global level. Successful candidates will hold a primary appointment in one of FSPH's five departments, which are Biostatistics, Community Health Sciences, Environmental Health Sciences, Epidemiology, and Health Policy and Management. Successful candidates may also hold a joint appointment across two departments. Candidates must hold a doctoral degree (PhD, ScD, DrPH or equivalent). We encourage applications from candidates in all disciplines of public health as well as a wide range of related fields including the social and behavioral sciences, statistics, public policy, and economics. Candidates must demonstrate strong skills in statistical analysis, research methods, and recent advances in quantitative methods. Deadline: November 8, 2015.

2016 NCHS/AcademyHealth Health Policy Fellowship. The NCHS/AcademyHealth Health Policy Fellowship program brings experts in health services research-related disciplines to the National Center for Health Statistics (NCHS) to conduct studies to address important issues in health policy. The selected fellow gains full access to NCHS data resources as well as several opportunities for professional development, collaboration, mentoring partnerships, and dissemination. During the 13 month tenure, the selected fellow will work closely with an NCHS staff member who can provide technical expertise related to the fellow's research, assist in accessing NCHS data systems and other resources, and help identify other collaborative opportunities within the Center. Application deadline: November 9, 2015.

Open Ranked, Tenure-Track Professor of Urban Planning, UCLA, Luskin School of Public Affairs. The UCLA Department of Urban Planning invites applications for a tenured or tenure-track faculty position in transportation. We seek a bold, innovative thinker who is, or soon will be, a leading scholar of cities and regions. We welcome applicants with varied research interests, though the candidate selected must be able to contribute substantially to our transportation policy and planning curriculum. All applicants should hold a PhD at the time of appointment and demonstrate exceptional promise for scholarship and teaching. While we expect to appoint at the rank of Assistant Professor, applicants and appointments at all levels will be considered. Deadline: November 16, 2015.

Assistant Professor of Demography, Université de Montréal. The Département de démographie is seeking applications for a full-time tenure-track position at the rank of Assistant Professor in demographic analysis. The appointed candidate will be expected to teach at all three levels of the curriculum, supervise graduate students, engage in ongoing research and publication, and contribute to the academic life and reputation of the University. Requirements: Ph.D. in Demography or in a related field, completed before the starting date. French is the language of instruction. Deadline: November 20, 2015.

Assistant Professor, Sanford School of Public Policy, Duke University. The Sanford School of Public Policy invites applications for a position at the rank of assistant professor in the area of education policy. While we are open with respect to particular research focus, we are especially interested in finding a scholar/teacher whose research demonstrates the interest and ability to use large data sets (including administrative records) to pursue education-policy relevant questions. The position is open with respect to discipline. Applicants will be expected to teach core courses in one or more of our degree programs as well as electives in their research area. Candidates must have a Ph.D. in public policy or a related field with demonstrated policy relevant research interests. Deadline: November 23, 2015.

Open Rank Professor of Family Science, University of Maryland, School of Public Health. The Department of Family Science, School of Public Health, University of Maryland, College Park seeks a full-time tenure track (Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor) (job #106047) to help the Department further enhance its national leadership at the forefront of research and education on health and families. Candidates should hold a doctoral degree (Ph.D., Sc.D.) in maternal and child health, family and reproductive health, or another relevant public health field; family science; demography; human development or related social science discipline. Application deadline: December 1, 2015.

\(2\) Open Rank, Tenure-Track Professor of Consumer Science, University of Wisconsin–Madison. The Department of Consumer Science, University of Wisconsin–Madison is recruiting 2 new tenure-track or tenured faculty members (rank open). We seek scholars in the broad area of family and consumer economic wellbeing, with particular interest in such areas as consumer finance, consumer policy, financial behavior and decision making, resource management, etc. Collectively these positions will provide leadership and support to our newly restructured Consumer Finance and Financial Planning programs, with one position serving as Faculty Director. PhD in a relevant social science field. Specialization in an area related to family economic wellbeing, consumer issues/policy, consumer finance, or household resource management. Deadline: December 6, 2015

Postdoctoral Fellowships, Harvard Center for Population and Development Studies. The Harvard Center for Population and Development Studies is currently accepting applications for two postdoctoral fellowships: the David E. Bell Fellowship and the Sloan Fellowship on Aging and Work. Selected candidates will enter these programs in September 2016. The Bell Fellowship is an interdisciplinary postdoctoral training program designed for researchers and practitioners in the field of population sciences. The Sloan Fellowship is a new interdisciplinary, postdoctoral training program that will address the challenges of aging societies and labor force participation. Application deadline: December 7, 2015.

T32 NIH Postdoctoral Research Associate, Population Studies & Training Center, Brown University. The Population Studies and Training Center at Brown University is currently recruiting a two-year Postdoctoral Research Associate to start on or around July 2016. This position is funded by a T32 training grant from the National Institute for Child Health and Human Development, and funding restrictions require the postdoctoral researcher to be a US citizen or Legal Permanent Resident. Postdoctoral Fellows must have a Ph.D. in anthropology, economics, sociology, demography, or a related social science discipline. Screening of applications will begin December 15, 2015, and will continue until the position is filled (for full consideration please submit materials by January 1, 2016).
