Please e-mail Erin Oates and indicate whether you are presenting or attending.

2015 PAA Annual Meeting, April 30- May 2, 2015, San Diego, CA

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

Assistant Professor of Sociology, Stockholm University. The Department of Sociology at Stockholm University is hiring an Assistant Professor (tenure-track position). The position entails teaching and supervision at Bachelor and Master level as well as own research. The Department employees are expected to participate in the institution's internal work, including overall administrative tasks. Department employees are also expected to actively seek external research funding, and create contacts with the national and international scientific community. The position includes 50% teaching and 50% own research. Open until filled.

Research Associate, Centre on Population Dynamics, McGill University, Montreal, Canada. The Centre on Population Dynamics is a university research centre that supports innovative population research on topics relating to health, work, family, aging, and migration. The Research Associate will assist with managing two projects in the slums of Nairobi, Kenya. Both projects entail the collection and monitoring of longitudinal data. The first project will assess the impact of affordable and higher quality day care services on poor women's employment and earnings by implementing a randomized control trial (RCT) offering mothers with young children daycare vouchers. The second examines the extent of kinship support single mothers with young children receive and its impact on child health. Candidate should have Ph.D. in sociology, economics, demography, or epidemiology with strong quantitative skills. Open until filled.

NIH Ruth Kirschstein National Research Service Awards for Individual Postdoctoral Fellows. The National Institutes of Health (NIH) offers up to 3 years of fellowship support for postdoctoral scholars interested in biomedical and behavioral research. Open only to U.S. citizens or permanent residents. Must have a PhD or MD by the beginning date of the NRSA appointment. Applicants must identify a sponsoring institution and individual who will serve as a sponsor. Application deadline: December 8, 2014.

Cornell University

CORNELL POPULATION CENTER

Research Fellowship, Mannheim Centre for European Social Research \(MZES\). The MZES is an interdisciplinary research institute of the University of Mannheim dedicated to comparative European social research and the analysis of European integration processes. The Centre seeks to recruit an outstanding social scientist as a Research Fellow to work in Research Department A "European Societies and their Integration." MZES Research Fellowships provide experienced researchers, preferably with previous postdoctoral experience, with an opportunity to pursue independent research within the framework of the Centre's Research Programme. Application deadline: December 9, 2014.

\(2\) Open Rank Professor of Public Policy, UC Riverside. The School of Public Policy (SPP) at the University of California, Riverside -- a new School launched last year which plans to welcome its inaugural class of Master's of Public Policy students in Fall 2015 -- invites applications for two tenure-track faculty positions beginning AY 2015-16: (i) an associate (tenured) or full professor of health policy and (ii) an assistant or (tenured) associate professor of poverty, inequality, and public policy. Application deadline: December 12, 2014.

ACTwatch 2015 Research Fellowship, PSI. The one year, full time research Fellowship gives successful candidates the opportunity to spend between 6-9 months in the field, working with a highly successful central research team to coordinate data collection and to analyze quantitative survey data using standardized methods and tools across a rapidly expanding global program. This fellowship provides the opportunity for travel, the chance to undertake highly relevant research in remote African/Asian settings. The data sets may also be used by the Fellow for their own academic research. Application deadline: December 15, 2014.

Assistant Professor or tenured Associate Professor of Economics, Université catholique de Louvain. This is a full time tenure-track or tenured position in International Trade and Emerging/Developing Economies. The successful candidate will carry out research mainly in the field of International Trade in conjunction with Emerging/Developing Economies. Teaching might also include general courses in economics. The applicant must show evidence of a high potential for successful research on the connection between international trade and, e.g., firm demography, technological change, labor market including labor conditions and worker mobility within or between sectors. Application deadline: December 15, 2014.

Senior Research Demographer, Boston Redevelopment Authority. Under the direction of the Research Director, create, manage, execute and analyze demographic research projects. Provide technical direction and expertise related to current demographic conditions and develop demographic projections for the City of Boston. Oversee and participate in major research projects on Boston's population; prepare research reports, maintain databases and perform statistical analysis. Initiate, and manage the development of demographic models. Application deadline: December 15, 2014.

Economists, U.S. Census Bureau. The U.S. Census Bureau anticipates multiple job openings for economists. The Census Bureau provides an excellent environment for empirically-oriented economists to use confidential microdata on businesses and households, linked employer-employee data, and confidential microdata from federal and state administrative and statistical agencies to conduct research on a wide range of topics. These topics include business dynamics (industrial organization, productivity, trade, entrepreneurship, and innovation); labor dynamics (employment activity and worker flows); income dynamics (earnings, taxation, assets, poverty, and program participation); health (disability, health status, and insurance markets); household dynamics (housing, family structure, education, and migration); and disclosure avoidance techniques (confidentiality and privacy research). Application deadline: December 15, 2014.

Cornell University

CORNELL POPULATION CENTER

Postdoctoral Fellow, UC Irvine. The School of Social Ecology and the Metropolitan Futures Initiative (MFI) seek applications to fill a full-time Postdoctoral Fellow position in the urban social sciences. Funding is available for up to two years, to be reviewed after the first year. The position is expected to begin sometime early 2015. This postdoctoral position is part of the interdisciplinary MFI project directed by Professor John Hipp. Candidates are required to have a PhD in such fields as criminology, urban planning, geography, sociology, or other fields related to urban/regional studies. Application deadline: December 31, 2014.

PhDs, Post-Doctoral Fellows, and a Research Scientist, Max Planck Institute for Demographic Research \(MPIDR\).

The newly established Max Planck Research Group: "Gender Gaps in Health and Survival" at the Max Planck Institute for Demographic Research (MPIDR) is seeking to make appointments at PhD (up to 2), Post-Doctoral Fellow (up to 2), and Research Scientist levels. The research of the group is multidisciplinary. Applicants for the post-doc and research scientist positions should have completed a PhD in epidemiology/public health, demography, statistics or related fields. Candidates for the post-doc positions may have a PhD near completion (e.g. submitted). All applicants should have a keen interest in health and mortality and a solid knowledge of statistical methods. Application deadline: December 31, 2014.

Economist, Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago. The Microeconomics Group at the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago seeks an economist at any experience level to conduct empirical research on applied microeconomics issues such as labor markets, immigration, education, public finance, consumer finance, or industrial organization. Application deadline: December 31, 2014.

Assistant Professor in Human Development and Family Sciences, Oregon State. The School of Social & Behavioral Health Sciences in the College of Public Health and Human Sciences located in Corvallis, OR invites applications for an Assistant Professor position (Job # 0013273) in Human Development and Family Sciences (HDFS) who will contribute to our focus on families and health across the life course. This is a full-time (1.00 FTE), 9-mo. tenure-track appointment. Application deadline: January 1, 2015.

Associate/Full Professor of Global Health—Tenured, Endowed Professorship, Boston College. The Boston College School of Social Work is looking for a distinguished scholar who will further enhance the school's expertise in global health. We are especially interested in faculty whose work examines one or both of the following: (a) the social and cultural determinants that contribute to health and illness in diverse communities and populations and/or (b) the social and cultural factors that help explain the differential access to prevention or treatment services, when people are most in need. Application reviews begin January 1, 2015.

Sociology Professor & Chair, Iowa State University. The Department of Sociology at Iowa State University invites applications for the position of Professor and Chairperson. The Department is jointly administered through the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences; and the Chairperson reports to deans in both colleges. The Chair will serve as the leading advocate for the Department in its administrative dealings with other organizational units within the University, encourage excellence among members of the Department in performance of their duties, and keep members of the Department informed about policies and expectations of other administrative units that may affect them. Application reviews begin January 2, 2015.

\(3\) Assistant Professor of Geospatial Analysis, University of Central Florida. UCF seeks to strengthen its research mission and academic offerings in the broad interdisciplinary area of Geospatial Analysis. In support of this effort, the College of Sciences has established three tenure-earning assistant professor positions expected to begin in fall 2015. Ideal candidates will have a strong background in the application of GIS and other geospatial analytical approaches to address questions in their research area, a desire to collectively build curricula centered on geospatial science, and a passion for integrating multiple disciplines to confront challenges facing society. UCF is committed to the development of new hires in interdisciplinary clusters. Faculty will be expected to strengthen both their tenure home department (Anthropology, Biology, Political Science, or Sociology) as well as the geospatial cluster. Application deadline: January 1, 2015.

Assistant Professor of Sociology \(Quantitative Methods\), Virginia Tech. Virginia Tech invites applications for one full-time, nine-month, tenure-track position (#TR0140133) in quantitative methods in the Department of Sociology at the Assistant Professor level to begin Fall, 2015. Applicants must be competent in advanced quantitative methods and statistics. Additional competency in survey design and analysis is preferred. Substantive areas of research are open. Applicants must have Ph.D. in hand at the start of appointment. We seek a scholar who will contribute to graduate training in advanced quantitative methods, maintain a productive research program, and contribute to both the graduate and undergraduate programs. Application deadline: January 1, 2015.

2015 NIA and NICHD Postdoctoral Fellowships, Population Studies Center, University of Michigan. The Population Studies Center expects to have openings for postdoctoral fellows sponsored by National Institute on Aging (NIA) and The Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development (NICHD). Positions to start on or about September 2, 2015. Applicants must have a Ph.D. in demography, public health, or one of the social sciences (e.g., sociology, economics, psychology) at the starting date. Application deadline: January 5, 2015.

Postdoctoral Researcher, Trinity College Dublin. The Research Fellow will work alongside Dr. Camilla Devitt in the Department of Sociology at Trinity College Dublin on the Norface Welfare State Futures programme funded project "The Paradox of Health State Futures" (HEALTHDOX) project for a period of three years starting in the Spring of 2015. The HEALTHDOX project involves a team of scholars from seven European universities. Application deadline: January 7, 2015.

Postdoctoral Fellowship, Center for Tobacco Control Research & Education, UC San Francisco. Tobacco Control Policy Fellows are recruited from a variety of fields including the basic sciences, social sciences, public health practitioners, clinical fields, political science, history, economics, law, and marketing. The Center for Tobacco Control Research and Education directs a postdoctoral fellowship program that offers supervised research experience in tobacco control with members of the Center faculty. Each trainee meets regularly with a faculty mentor regarding research progress and career or professional issues. Stipends are $2000 above the NIH scale, from approximately $44,000 - $53,096, depending on years of postdoctoral experience. Application deadline: January 14, 2015.

\(2-3\) Open Rank Professor of Behavioral Sciences and Health Education \(BSHE\), Rollins School of Public Health of Emory University. The Department of BSHE, Rollins School of Public Health of Emory University, seeks scholars for tenured or tenure track faculty appointments at the academic rank of Assistant, Associate or Full Professor (#47764BR). We seek forward-looking colleagues with conceptual and methodological expertise that crosses disease categories and includes: multi-level modeling, macro-social determinants of health, intervention development, dissemination and implementation, bio-psychosocial influences, ubiquitous technologies, life course development, social network methods, and health disparities. Candidates from a broad range of disciplinary backgrounds (e.g., public health, communications, psychology, sociology, anthropology, social/behavioral epidemiology, genomics, health services, and behavioral economics) are encouraged to apply. Application deadline: January 15, 2015.

Developing Asia Health Policy Fellowship, Stanford University. The Walter H. Shorenstein Asia-Pacific Research Center, Stanford University (Shorenstein APARC) and the Asia Pacific Observatory on Health Systems and Policy (APO) are pleased to announce their collaborative Developing Asia Health Policy Fellowship. The Postdoctoral Fellow will participate in the Stanford Asia Health Policy Program while undertaking original research on contemporary health or healthcare policy of high relevance to countries in the Asia-Pacific region. The Fellow will benefit from the APO network of researchers and research institutions throughout the Asia Pacific region, including contacts with governments, to facilitate access to data and needed references for their research. Application deadline: January 15, 2015.

Associate Professor/Senior Lecturer of Sociology, Lund University. The Department of Sociology at Lund University seeks at least one Senior Lecturer (Associate Professor). The successful candidate will teach sociology courses on the Bachelors, Masters and PhD levels. The position includes 20 per cent research that, with support of external funding, can be extended up to 75 percent. The teaching languages are Swedish and English. The department expects a non-Swedish speaking successful candidate to learn and master Swedish within a reasonable time period. Application deadline: January 16, 2015.

Postdoctoral Research Associate, Population Studies and Training Center \(PSTC\), Brown University. The PSTC is currently accepting applications for a postdoctoral research associate position in Population Studies. As part of a research unit with a strong culture of collaboration, postdoctoral fellows are expected to spend about half of their time working independently and about half of their time working together with one or more mentors from among our faculty Research Associates. Application deadline: January 31, 2015.

Development Economist, American Institutes for Research \(AIR\). The American Institutes for Research (AIR) has opportunities available in Washington, D.C. for a Development Economist to work in the International Development, Evaluation, and Research program (IDER). IDER conducts impact evaluations on a wide range of topics including cash transfer programs, early childhood nutrition programs, education interventions, health product distribution programs, and agricultural interventions. Our work contributes to policy and financial decisions at the national and international level in countries around the world. A Ph.D. in economics, public policy, or related social science field, with expertise in econometrics or applied statistics. Application deadline: January 31, 2015.

NIH Postdoctoral Fellowship, Office of Population Research at Princeton University. The Office of Population Research at Princeton University invites applications for an NIH postdoctoral fellowship (#1400802). Candidates must have completed an MD or a PhD in demography, sociology, statistics, or other relevant field prior to the start of the appointment. Applicants for this NIH fellowship must be U.S. citizens or permanent residents. Appointment is for one year, with possibility of renewal based on satisfactory performance and continued funding. The start date for this appointment will be September 2015. Screening of applicants will start on February 1, 2015.

Staff Scientist, Epidemiology Branch, NIH/NICHD. The Division of Intramural Population Health Research (DIPHR) of the Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development (NICHD), National Institutes of Health (NIH), invites applications for the position of Staff Scientist in the Epidemiology Branch. The successful applicant will be expected to assist in the development of relevant etiological hypotheses, study protocols, analytical plans, and institutional review board packages necessary for successful study completion as well as preparation of scientific papers and other related work as required. Application deadline: February 1, 2015.

RAND Postdoctoral Training Program in the Study of Aging. The RAND Postdoctoral Training Program in the Study of Aging enables outstanding junior scholars in demographic and aging research to sharpen their analytic skills, learn to communicate research results effectively, and advance their research agenda. Housed within RAND Labor and Population, the program blends formal and informal training and extensive collaboration with distinguished researchers in a variety of disciplines. Fellowships are for one year, renewable for a second. Each fellow receives a competitive annual stipend, travel stipend and health insurance. Application deadline: February 20, 2015.

Open Rank Professor of Economics, Purdue University. The Department of Economics invites applications for at least one tenure-track or tenured position. Candidates at all ranks (Assistant, Associate and Full Professor) will be considered; appointments will begin August, 2015. The Department is seeking applications from exceptional candidates in all fields; candidates in the areas of Industrial Organization, Health, Education, Labor and Public Economics are particularly encouraged to apply. Candidates are expected to conduct policy-relevant research, to supervise Ph.D. dissertation research and to teach at the graduate and undergraduate levels. The positions require a Ph.D. in economics or closely related field. Application deadline: March 31, 2015.

CPC STUDENT OPPORTUNITIES

Demography Minor. The CPC offers a campus-wide minor in Demography that is open to PhD students in all social science graduate fields. Admission to the Demography minor requires that at least one member of the student's special committee is a CPC affiliate. Students interested in signing up for the Demography minor should contact Lindy Williams or Geysa Smiljanic.

CPC Graduate Student Demography/Population Reading Group. For each meeting, a participant will serve as the leader, providing 2 or 3 articles and/or chapters to read related to their topic of interest. This group will facilitate student exposure to a breadth of literature across all of population studies and also develop some cross-disciplinary links. If you are interested in participating, please just send your name, department, and general area of interest/specialty to Christopher Gronberg.

PhD Student, Post-Doctoral Fellow or Research Scientist, MPIDR. The Max Planck Institute for Demographic Research (MPIDR) is recruiting highly qualified PhD students or Post-Doctoral researchers (up to 2 positions) to work on a project analyzing the relationship between health behaviors and mortality in aging populations. The successful candidate will have strong quantitative skills with experience in applied data analysis. Candidates from the fields of demography, economics, statistics, sociology, epidemiology/public health or related disciplines will be considered. Open until filled.

American Statistical Association: Research Fellowship Programs. Open to current graduate students. The ASA, with the NSF, offers fellowships to fund interdisciplinary research at federal agencies for up to 1 year. The objective of the program is to foster collaborative and interdisciplinary activities that will stimulate the development of methodology and analytic research relevant to the sponsoring Federal agencies (U.S. Bureau of Economic Analysis, U.S. Census Bureau, and the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics). The duration of the fellowships is six months up to a year depending on the center. Application deadline: December 10, 2014.
